ALARM AT THE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS-THE NATIONAL BANKING CAPITAL - ALABAMA AND THE AMENDMENT-THE INDIAN CON-TEACTS - THE AGRICULTURAL REPORTS -FALSE REPORT OF COLLECTOR SMYTHE'S

RESIGNATION.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30, 1866. Mr. Stevens is preparing some important measures which will be introduced immediately on the assembling of Congress. They look to radical changes in both Executive and Judicial quarters. The recent decision of the Supreme Court in regard to military trials, together with the report of other important decisions shortly to follow, in which it is allieged they intend to declare several laws now on the Stutute-book unconstitutional, have produced a feeling of alarm. Several able jurists in both Houses are seriously considering the propriety of Congress taking immediate action to avert serious dangers. The President is said to have conferred with several of the Judges of the Supreme Court in regard to the positions assumed by Congress toward the Southern States. When he announced to the Commission from South Carolina, Mr. Weatherby, that the Supreme Court would declare the amendment unconstitutional, he is thought to have spoken by the card.

Mr. Hooper intends to press his bank bill immediately on the opening of Congress after the holidays. He will strenuously oppose any in-crease of the three hundred million capital of the National Banking Law. A strong pressure the National Banking Law. A strong pressure has been brought to bear upon the Committee from the North-West to secure a moderate increase, but Mr. Hooper, backed by the Committee, as strenuously opposes it, and will endeavor to defeat it in the House. The North-Western members allege that Massachusetts has $60,000,000 invested in the National Bank law. The entire North-West have not much over $50,000,000 and are debarred from getting any more. They will urge therefore a considerable increase over the $300,000,000 as provided in the increase over the $300,000,000 as provided in the increase over the $300,000,000 as provided in the present law.

The Alabama loyalists now here are in possession of some particulars of the movement which Gov. Parsons has been home to aid. The Legislature meets at Montgomery on the 15th ult. Notice is pending for a reconsideration of the vote rejecting the amendment. Gov. Parsons's late visit was to aid its ratification. It is believed that not only will this be done, but that an election will be ordered for all offices now filled by men excluded under the third section. Such prominent politicians have been selected by the Administration party there as, while in full sympathy with the Rebellion, are not at the same time technically disqualified from helding office, for the reason that they have never taken the oath of allegiance or held office. A brother of the Rebel Morgan, himself a prominent advocate of Secession and an able lawyer, is to be nominated as Governor in place of Parson, who has taken and violated himself a prominent advocate of Secession and an able lawyer, is to be nominated as Governor in place of Patten, who has taken and violated the oath of allegiance. Morgan is one of the ablest and most bitter pro-Southern politicians in the State. Other candidates of similar stripe are selected as S-nators and Representatives. In this way the Alabama loyalists declare the Unionists will be outflanked if the State is admitted to representation under a simple ratification of the pending amendment.

The House Committee on Indian Affairs will resume their investigation into the character of the contracts awarded by Mr. Bogy. Some curious developments are expected. It has been shown that many of the samples on which Mr.

curious developments are expected. It has been shown that many of the samples on which Mr. Bogy claims 40 have awarded contracts were in quality no better than similar goods on which the bids were from $8,000 to $10,000 lower. Experts were introduced who in several cases testified as to the quality of the goods. The contracts awarded will, if consummated, cost over $20,000 mag. then the constant of the contracts awarded will, if consummated, The contracts awarded will, if consummated, cost over $30,000 more than the rejected bids. Mr. Bory is said to have been very anxious to have the investigation closed to allow him to go on with the contracts. One curious contradiction was presented. An Inspector of the Interior Department, charged by Mr. Browning with the examination, &c., of the goods and contracts, testified to having been offered by an agent of some defeated contractors the succession. of say, of some defeated contractors the sum of $30,000. Of course this was intended to produce a favorable award. On the other hand the agent testifies that the Inspector wanted the agent testifies that the Inspector wanted his clients to go into an arrangement to bid on certain samples and furnish goods of a poorer offality, which he (the Inspector) should pass. Fifty thousand dollars were the expected profits of this operation.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE NEW-YEAR.-The "Uses and Abuses of New-Year's Day" was the subject of a discourse at the Church of the Restoration, corner of Clark-st, and Mouroe-place, of the Revt-Henry Rhanchard, last evening. The speaker first culled attention to the uses of the day—it was a solemn, a hallowed day, one mile stone in the journey of life nearer home and nothing could result the past. Then again New-Year's Day taught the fact that men lived not only for money-getting, but for home and love—for the cultivation of friendship and the affections. But there were abuses as well; and first, an abuse of "friendship." There was hyporrisy in making a long list of calls on pretended friends, when there was nothing in the hears but pride. A man could have but few real friends, and the custom of making many calls should, therefore, be trampied under foot. Second, there was an abuse of "hospitality." Third, the "display" of the day in dresses, tables, etc., was a most decided abuse; there was an air of "shoddy" about it. Lost. There was the abuse of "drinking" ladies giving the deadly glass to their young men friends. The speaker said he was no tetrotaller lineself, but he considered it an abuse of friendliness, of hospitality, and every kindly feeling, to proffer the intoxicating cup to any one on New-Year's Day. In closing he drew a vivid picture of what the day should, he—a day consecrated to firm resolutions for a "higher life and a better hope."

A SHIRDORLD, Dec. 30.—Theodore Meister and Henry A Smith, two Germans, residing in West Harfford, were arrested at their residence on Friday last, on suspicion of being implicated in the marder of Lather G. Thompson, at Farmington, in Getober last. They were taken before a Justice Court in Farmington, and their case adjourned to January 7, to give them an opportunity to procure coursed. The prisoners were then brought to this city and piaced in Jail. There are very strong suspicious that these two men are the guilty parties. They resided very near the scene of the tracedy, and the conflicting stories they have since told concerning their whereabouts on the evenage of the marder have caused much speculation, and finally led to their arrest. On the arrival of the locomotive at the scene of the accident, it was sent back for cars to transport the betated passengers. While running back to transport the betated passengers. While running back to transport the betated passengers. While running back to company met with severe bruises.

The Coroner was front of T. D. Norris's liquor store, on Boston Road, near One-hundred-and-thirty-minth-st., in Morrisania. Mr. Reily has not seen or heard anything of his property notified and will hold an inquest to-day... Mrs. Emma Alcorn, residing at No. 35 Gold-st., while endeavoring yesterday morning to kindle a fire with the aid of keroseme oil, was so severely burned by the ignition and explosion of the oil within the can which she held in her hand, that her recovery is doubtful. A team of horses belonging to Dennis McCarty of Classon-ave, became frightened inset evening in Third-ave, and ran away with a carriage to which they were attached, severely, if not fainly, injuriest the conclumant, Timothy Sollivan. The carriage was damaged to a considerable extent, and one of the horses seriously hart. The horses, carriage and conclumant were picked up by the police and "properly cared for." notified and will hold an inquest to-day ... Mrs. Emma

CONCORD. N. H., Dec. 30.—The Pennicook Cotton Mill at Pisherville—a long, three-story building of stone—took fire yesterday afteraoon in the upper story, to which the flames were mainly confined. The machinery and stock suffered considerably by water. Totaloss is estimated at $50,000. The loss was insured. WEATHER NEWS. THE REPORT TO THE TRUSCHE

FORTHESS MONROE, Dec. 30.—Wind northeast. There are indications of a snow storm.

WILDINGTON, Dec. 30.—There was a heavy fall of snow ast night; halling rapidly since 8 a. m.

Argusta, Ga., Dec. 30.—Snow, hall and sleet for the last hirty-six hours, and still continues. Nothing like it has cen known in many years; snow to the depth of two sches. inches.

BUFFALO, Dec. 30.—Travel has been resumed on all the roads leading to and from the city, except at the Lake Shore Road. The track on the Lake Shore Road is clear of snow. A locomotive, off the track near the city, prevented the train leaving to-night. If will leave at 65 o'clock to-morrow morning. Weather clear and calon.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 30.—The New-York Central Railroad is clear of snow the whole length, and trains are running on invalid the election of directors which was made on the 13th of November last, but the application was denied, and an opinion passed by Justice Mason to the following effect: That these petitioners seek by these proceedings to cause to be set aside the election of directors held on the 13th of November last, because Stockholders in the new stock of $4,000,000 were not allowed to vote, they having been restrained from voting by an injunction issued from the Court of Common Pleas and served on them just as the election was about to take place. The respondents have shown that the $4,000,000 of new stock was illegally issued. Since the notice calling a meeting of directors, for such a purpose should be signed by seven directors and the call in question was signed by but four, and one of these was not a stockholder, and one of these was not a stockholder. In the refore not cuffled to act as a director. The old stockholders likewise had a right to shares in the issuing of the new stock in proportion to the amount of old stock held by them. Another question to be considered is as to whether the election was valid in point of time. The Inspectors of Elections, whose duty if was to have held it on the 12th of November, 1866, refused to act, and the stockholders were lawfully convened, and appointed other inspectors, and on the following day the election was held and conducted lawfully and fairly. The transactions of the curporation of directors for the last few months shows that their corporate was in peril, and the directors in office at the time of election had likely lost their charter had the Slate intermeddied. There was not a majority of the directors present, and the application was made to the two who were present to make new directors and they refused. They were right in refusing for they had no authority to appoint, as it required a majority of the Board. In the energency the directors had a right to act as they did. The rat that the oath as prescribed was not taken by these inspectors of elections had a right time.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—The weather is cold, and the snow blockade on the Lake Shore Bond continues. No trains have arrived from Buffalo for three days.
